Shyam: Yeah, the Science paper was quite lengthy this time. I couldn't even finish the last two questions.

Ram: Same here! But I am glad we both passed. We really need to focus more on time management for the final SEE exams.

Shyam: Absolutely. We should start practicing past papers and model questions together from next week.

Ram: That's a great idea. Let's meet at the library tomorrow after school to make a study plan.

Preserving Our Lifeline: Natural Resources

- By A Concerned Student

Natural resources such as forests, rivers, and mines are the fundamental pillars of human survival and economic development. However, people are carelessly destroying these precious assets out of greed and negligence, which has severely affected our environment, leading to climate change, pollution, and the tragic loss of biodiversity. It is high time we take immediate steps to preserve them.

Firstly, we must prioritize afforestation and reforestation. Planting more trees will help restore the ecological balance and prevent soil erosion. Secondly, strict laws must be enforced against illegal logging and mining. Industries should adopt sustainable practices and minimize their untreated waste discharge into rivers. Water bodies must be kept clean through proper waste management and public awareness campaigns.

Furthermore, we should shift our focus towards renewable energy sources like solar and wind power to reduce our reliance on fossil fuels. At the individual level, practicing the 3Rs—Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle—can make a massive difference. Conserving water, saving electricity, and minimizing plastic use are small but crucial steps. Let us pledge to act responsibly today to save our environment for future generations.
